Write with Harte!

Writevember Prep Checklist

Here is a checklist of things to do in preparation for writing in November. Use the right side for other items you need to to to prepare.

✓	TO DO
☐	Stock up on writing fuel! Plan your meals by week or by month and buy all your non-perishable groceries in one big trip.
☐	Bookmark a few quick and easy recipes (Crock/Insta pots are your friend!), or make and freeze meals ahead of time.
☐	If you can, divvy up your chores with other people. Promise to make up the balance later
☐	Extend deadlines or get ahead of big work/school items due in November.
☐	Set up your writing space and schedule. Stock up on your writing drinks and snacks..
☐	Anticipate and deal with potential distractions ahead of time.
☐	Tell friends and family that you'll be writing this month. Enlist their support! (See infographic)
☐	Make a "Do Not Disturb" sign, or use the one provided to let the people around you know they should leave you alone.
☐	Plot out your writing for each day, e.g. Chap 3, scenes 2+3, with the goal of 1,667 words.
☐	Add Write with Harte Writevember call on your calendar each Thursday (Join WWH free for call details)
☐	Join the Romance Writing Challenge Group at Write with Harte for support through the month. (free acceess of members)
☐	Find a writing buddy for accountability.
☐	Prepare to have fun!
